COLONEL A. BURR.

MOTION FOR COMMITMENT.

EXAMINATION OF EVIDENCE.

SATURDAY, Sept. 26.

Gen. Wilkinson's Testimony continued.

Mr. Hay said that he was willing in order to save time, to waive every thing which related to the operations of the army; and requested that gen. Wilkinson would proceed to relate what occurred in New Orleans.

I proceeded from Natchitoches to Natchez; and descending from that place reached Fort Adams on the 8th November where I found Mr. Swartwout, who had been taken ill on his route from Natchitoches to New Orleans, and for his accommodation, was invited by some one of the officers to that place. He informed me that Mr. Ogden had reached that place, on his way to Tennessee, but being alarmed by the rumors which prevailed in that part of the country, he was afraid to proceed, and had halted there. I enquired of Mr. Swartwout whether Mr. Ogden had borne any letters. He said that he had not; but that Lieut. Spence of the navy, had been sent some time before from New Orleans through the country with letters from col. Burr. I proceeded on, and reached New Orleans on the 25th of November in the evening; and on the 29th in the morning I received this letter from doctor Bollman. (Here general Wilkinson produced the letter, see note G.) This letter reminds me of a circumstance which I have omitted. The morning after I had received the letter of doctor Bollman at Natchitoches, I acknowledged the receipt of it in a short note, and informed him that I should be at New Orleans about the 20th. I did not call on doctor Bollman till the 30th. After the ordinary salutations I enquired whether he had heard of col. Burr since his arrival. He informed me that he had not. I asked him whether he had heard of Lieut. Spence's arrival in Tennessee. He inquired how I came to know any thing of Lieut. Spence. I informed him that it was through Mr. Swartwout. He assured me that he had seen dispatches for col. Burr by Lieut. Spence, and that he had heard of his arrival at Natchitoches. He then enquired what part I meant to take. I observed that I felt myself delicately situated. It was impossible that I could take any part while I held my commission, and I was so circumstanced, that I could not get rid of it. He asked me what I thought of the competency of the force for the undertaking. I observed that it depended on a variety of circumstances; such as winds, weather, composition and appointment of the troops, skill in conduct, the resistance of their opponents, and other causes on which the success of military operations depend. But I gave it as my opinion that I thought the force insufficient. He said that col. Burr had gone too far to retract; that he had numerous & powerful friends in the United States, who stood pledged to support him with their fortunes, and that he must succeed. He then enquired of me my opinion, as to the state of the magazines of provisions in New Orleans.

I observed, that if col. Burr descended with the force proposed, they would starve unless he brought provisions along with him; for I had before ascertained precisely the quantity then on hand. He said it was his opinion also that there would be a scarcity of provisions, that he had written to col. Burr on the subject, and that he expected a supply from New York and Norfolk, where col. Burr had many friends. He said that he had noticed in the public prints the sailing of some vessels with flour and supposed that they might be destined for that place. I did not see Dr. Bollman afterwards till the 5th of December, the day after the arrival of the mail, and I called on him to enquire the news. He said he had seen a letter from col. Burr of the 30th October, in which he stated that he should be at Natchez on the 29th of December with two thousand men, to be followed by four thousand more—and that he could have levied or raised twelve thousand men as easily as six if he had thought them necessary. I then informed Dr. Bollman if colonel Burr came to New Orleans I should oppose him. He replied they must come there for provisions and equipments. He observed that col. Burr had great confidence in me; but he did not know what had passed between us, and asked me if I could not make such a defence as would cover my reputation and still permit him to come. I replied to the negative, and we then parted. Some few mornings afterwards he called at my quarters; there I saw Dr. Bollman in the room and I took him into the piazza. He said that he wanted to know my determination. I expressed surprise and told him that he knew my determination.

Mr. Hay. While you were thus extracting from Bollman the secrets of his party were you taking any measures for the security of New Orleans?

A. Yes; my orders and instructions will shew what measures I deemed it my duty to pursue. For these I am responsible to the executive of the U. S.

Mr. Martin. Are the cyphered letters filed. A. Yes. Q. Are the keys furnished? A. Here it is.

Mr. Botts mentioned the situation of Mr. Tazewell, who was summoned as a witness on the part of col. Burr. He said that Mr. Tazewell had represented the situation of his family to be such, as to require his immediate return home. Mr. Botts observed that although he had introduced the request of Mr. Tazewell to be discharged he should be compelled to oppose it.

Mr. Tazewell stated that he had been unexpectedly summoned to answer interrogatories as to certain proceedings before the grand jury. That he had just been informed of an occurrence in his domestic affairs, which made it indispensably necessary for him to return immediately. That there were many gentlemen in this place and its vicinity of the grand jury, who were as competent to give evidence on the points to which he should be called upon to depose as he could possibly be, and who would be subjected to no kind of inconvenience in attending. If he were to be examined at all he requested that it might be immediately done, for the situation of his family was such that he should be compelled to return.

The Chief Justice said to Mr. Tazewell that he knew full well, that it was not in the power of the court to discharge him.

Mr. Botts said it was impossible to examine Mr. Tazewell till general Wilkinson had gone through his testimony. It was not possible to know the importance of his evidence till gen. W. was cross examined.

Mr. Hay observed that it was an unprecedented measure to introduce a member of the grand jury, to prove what had passed in the jury room.

Mr. Botts. We have not said for what purpose we mean to introduce him.

Mr. Hay. I presume I may be permitted to presume for what purpose.

Mr. Baker said he meant to speak generally of the propriety and convenience of giving testimony as to what passed in the grand jury room. One good effect at least would result from it, that by introducing witnesses to prove what had passed there, it would prevent people from giving information to the grand jury, which they could not support elsewhere.

Mr. Botts called for the Key to the cyphered letters of col. Burr. Gen. Wilkinson handed him a small pocket dictionary and a paper containing hieroglyphics.

Mr. Botts. In the duplicate received by Dr. Bollman there is an erasure—Will you be so good as to explain the cause of it.

Gen. Wilkinson.—That erasure was made by myself and the words afterwards introduced by me. I have a deposition which will be more satisfactory than my own explanation.

Mr. Botts. Whose deposition. A. Mr. Duncan.

[Mr. Wirt read the deposition of Mr. Duncan, for which see note H.]

Mr. Botts when was the erasure made? A. During the sitting of the legislature in New Orleans. Mr. Botts. When were the words restored? A. I cannot now state with certainty.

Q. Was the letter exhibited to the Legislature? A. It was introduced; but I confined myself to oral communications. Q. What was the occasion of the erasure? A. To put it out of the power of a certain faction in the legislature, to whom, at that time, I intended to submit the paper; to conceal it from that faction who were opposed to my measures, and who, I believe, were inimical to the true interests of their country, and were laboring to excite suspicions that I was connected with colonel Burr, in order to destroy the public confidence in me, and thus to defeat my measures. At the head of this faction, I considered John Watkins, esq. the speaker. Having determined not to submit the letter, I restored the words. Q. Did you prepare any translation to submit to the legislature? A. No. I only made notes.

Q. Did you make a translation for any other purpose? A. Only a partial and imperfect one. Q. For what purpose? A. To understand it. Q. Was there any other occasion for which a translation was made? A. No. Q. Did you make any translation for the executive? A. No. Q. Were those words, "your post marked 13th of May is received," erased? A. Yes.

Q. Where is the copy of your letter, containing a copy of that of colonel Burr, and your deposition to the president of the U. States? A. It is among my papers.

Mr. Hay. Do I understand you correctly, when I suppose you to say, the translation intended for the legislature of New Orleans, was sent to the president? A. No.

(Mr. Hay immediately observed that, on recollecting dates, he perceived that he had misunderstood general Wilkinson; that the letter was sent to the president before the session of the legislature of New Orleans.)

Mr. Botts. Do I understand you to say that this was your translation of the letter which was intended for the legislature of New Orleans? A. No. It was Mr. Duncan's.

Mr. Botts. Have you ever sworn that this was a true translation? A. No. Only substantially so. (Gen. Wilkinson. May I be permitted to offer a few words of explanation? When Dr. Bollman was arrested, I will confess to you that I was so little acquainted with judicial proceedings, that I did not know it was necessary to do more than accompany him with a letter of advice. I was about to send him off in this way, when Mr. Duncan suggested to me the propriety of sending forward a deposition to justify his commitment. I put the letter into the hands of Mr. Duncan, with the key; and he made out the interpretation. When Mr. Duncan presented the translation to me, I stated my objections to the omissions. He urged me to sign the deposition. The time was urgent; the express waiting; and I confess that I feared a rescue. This did not give me much time to consult my understanding. If I had, it is probable that I should have resisted the signing of the deposition with those omissions, notwithstanding my confidence in the judgment and integrity of my counsel. I was, also, at the time, oppressed by domestic afflictions; and my mind was hurried and agitated by the painful and interesting scenes which surrounded me.

Mr. Botts. Were there variations between this original letter in cypher and that sent on to the president? A. Yes.

Mr. Botts. Were they noticed by you, or by Mr. Duncan in your presence? A. I suppose so; because I objected generally to the omissions.

Mr. Botts. How was the cypher formed? A. It consisted of an American edition of Entick's dictionary, and of Hieroglyphics. Mr. Botts. Which was formed first? A. The dictionary. Mr. Botts. When was that formed? (Here gen. Wilkinson referred to a letter, without a signature, dated in 1800; and said he presumed it must have been formed about that time.)

Mr. Botts. Do you know the time of the year? A. I presume it was October.

Mr. Baker. To whom was that letter addressed? A. To myself. Q. By the same. By whom was it written? A. By col. Burr.

Gen. Wilkinson observed that it was a private letter, to which he had referred merely to refresh his memory, the concluding paragraph of which is, "When I receive your cypher and address you shall hear from me."

Mr. Wickham insisted upon seeing the letter.

Gen. Wilkinson refused; and said it was at the disposal of col. Burr and handed it to him.

Mr. Botts. With whom was the cypher formed? A. Col. Burr and myself. Mr. Botts. When were the hieroglyphics agreed upon? A. To the best of recollection, the hieroglyphics which refer to the alphabet were formed about the change of the administration, after the introduction of the president. (The hieroglyphics are divided into two parts; one part relates to the alphabet and figures and the other part to arbitrary names or designations.)

Mr. Botts. When were the arbitrary names established? I think in the year 1795 or 1796, but not delivered to colonel Burr at that time.

Mr. Botts. Who originally devised the cypher? A. That you hold in your hand (the hieroglyphics) was devised partly by myself and partly by captain Campbell Smith. Mr. Botts. Are you sure it was in 1796 in which that part was devised? A. Think I said it was in 1795 or 1796, but could not ascertain which. But adhering to the motives which induced me to adopt it, I think it was in 1794. Mr. Botts. Are there no circumstances which can enable you to ascertain the time? A. I could have proved with certainty the time, if a witness whom I had summoned had attended. Here is another cypher made by captain Smith in 1791; and the hieroglyphics representing the president and vice president are the same as those used in the cypher with colonel Burr.

Col. Burr. What was the mode adopted by you of sending round the prisoners? By public vessels? A. No. My plan was to engage passages on board private vessels, and to lay in a double stock of stores for their accommodation.

Col. Burr. When did your dispatches go on board the vessels? Can you ascertain the time? A. Not without recurring to my correspondence.

Mr. Wirt. You had been for many years in habits of intimate correspondence with col. Burr? A. Yes.

(G)

Sir, Your letter of the 6th inst. has been duly received. Supposing that you will be much engaged this morning I defer waiting on your excellency till you will be pleased to inform me of the time when it will be convenient to you to see me.

I remain with great respect,

(H)

The deposition of A. L. Duncan, a witness in behalf of the U. S. again Aaron Burr, taken at the request of the said witness, but by the consent of George Hay, Esq. attorney for the U. S. in the district of Virginia, and of the said Aaron Burr, to be read in evidence, if required, on all trials, motions, or other proceedings in course of law in which the said Aaron Burr shall be concerned at the prosecution of the said U. S.

I consent that this affidavit may be read in all cases in which the U. S. are concerned against Aaron Burr in the same manner as above expressed.

(Signed) GEO. HAY,
A U. S. for the Va. district.

During the commotion excited in New Orleans last winter what was termed col. Burr's conspiracy and his associates and accomplices in that place, I was called upon in my professional capacity by gen. Wilkinson for counsel and advice in some measures which he was about to adopt. The temper and disposition which I had discovered in New Orleans and the reports which daily reached that city from above, induced the belief that half measures were not suited to the times and that the public safety required the exertion of extraordinary energies. I therefore urged the general repeatedly to the seizure of suspected persons and the declaration of martial law.

When Bollman was seized, I suggested to the general the expediency of transmitting with him a statement of facts on oath to justify the seizure and to warrant his commitment. He then put the letters which he said were written to him by col. Burr, and which he also said were transmitted to him by Swartwout and Bollman, into my hands, on which with some further information and knowledge of their views, which the general possessed, I framed the deposition which accompanied Bollman, intentionally omitting every thing which was calculated to inculpate the general or which might by exciting suspicion have a tendency to weaken his testimony. Having prepared the deposition I presented it to general Wilkinson to be deposed, who strongly and repeatedly objected to omissions I had made, and urged warmly that the whole should be introduced. He also desired that a declaration of Bollman with which he frequently interlarded his conversations, should be entered, viz:—"That he had come to New Orleans with views to the settlement of lands on the Ouachita and was a mere spectator." And it was only after a full exposition of the sole objects of the document, that I could prevail on him to depose to it. It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on the trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

Burr's duplicate, he having erased such parts as had been intended to implicate him in the case of several of the members particu larly the Speaker, to be interested in op position to his measures, and for the pro tection of such a state of things as were calculated to favor col Burr's enterprise I understood that the erasure made on the duplicate was but partial, the General having determined to give oral informati on to the legislature, which employed two successive days; and that he considered the duplicate as unimportant. (Whilst the original has been preserved untouched)

Your letter post marked 12-5 May is neral's own hand.

On or about the 15th of August, since my arrival in this city, gen. Wilkinson put into my hands and those of J. L. Donaldson, Esq four or five letters, observing to us, "I sub mit to you those letters which I have not examined since I left St. Louis, they are from col. Burr, I do not recollect their par ticular contents, but having received them in confidence and knowing they blend per sonalities with politics, I have not permit ted myself to re-examine them, because I feel an insuperable repugnance to violate the trust of any man. I give them to you, here is the cypher, decypher them, consider them, consider their contents well, and then inform me whether their promulgation may be necessary to my honor." We did so, and we gave the general our opinion, that the promulgation might be necessary and proper.
From an examination of those letters and the general's evident surprise, and prompt decla ration of his ignorance when we communicat ed certain passages of those letters, it was my own and Mr. Donaldson's opinion that he had but partially decyphered them.

In answer to interrogatories on the part of Col. Burr, I recollect to have solicited the command of party to Natchez for the pur pose of arresting Col. Burr, and believed from the instructions which the general possessed, together with the state of things at that per iod that this measure was warrantable; and having seen several communications from the general to Gen. Wilkinson, and particu larly that in reply to this letter of the 2d of February, I had no doubt of the sanction of go vernment to any measures which were calcul ated to defeat the views of Col. Burr. I have seen communications of a confidential nature from the President to Gen. Wilkinson, and I believe in reply to the General's letter of the 10th of October.

MONDAY, September 28.

The court did not sit on this day in con sequence of the indisposition of colonel

Burr.

TUESDAY, September 29.

The examination of witnesses was re sumed on the part of the United States, al though col. Burr was still unable to attend on account of his indisposition.

Mr. Graham observed that when he was before the court the other day, he had ob served, he believed, to detail part of a con versation which he had with Mr. Blanner hasset. He was also apprehensive that he had not been so explicit in relation to his conversation with general Nevill as he would have wished. He therefore request ed permission of the court to add a few ob servations by way of explanation.

He said that Mr. Blannerhasset observ ed, in the course of their conversation, that colonel Burr and himself believ ed that the people of the western country would be benefited by a separation of the territory; but they had found that they were not ripe for the measure; and that they were personal views, that they were not warranted to hasten the event. I under stood him to mean that the people of the western country were not ripe for the mea sure. I think Mr. Blannerhasset went on to say that this was an event which must happen; but of this I am not certain.

Mr. Hay. At what period of the con versation took place at Marietta.

Mr. Hay. At the first conversation.

Mr. Hay. I had but one conversation with him. Our subsequent interviews and con versations were merely casual.

Mr. Hay. Was it at the first part of your conversation with him? A No. To wards the close; and after I had informed him that I was an accredited agent of the government.

I have some reason to believe that I may have been misunderstood with respect to what I said relative to gen. Nevill. Col.
Burr had asked before what conversation I had about a gentleman in the neighbor hood of Pittsburg, before the grand jury, without mentioning his name. The allu sion was understood to be gen. Nevill; & whenever I mention the name of a gentle man it is my wish to state every circum stance which occurred as nearly as possible.
My recollection of the conversation with gen. Nevill is this: After detailing the conversations which he had had with others he said that there had been a strong prej udice against col. Burr about Pittsburg; that the people there were attached to the union and believed that col. Burr had intended to separate it. Afterwards he said there was reason to believe that the expedition was meditated against the Spaniards, and his visits might be more welcome.

Gen. Eaton requested permission to in troduce a letter which he had just receiv ed from Stephen Pynchon, esq. of Brim field, Massachusetts, stating with precision several circumstances with respect to a subject, of which he had before spoken doubtfully. See the letter at the end of gen. Eaton's evidence.

(Mr. Wickham. I must protest against such a course of proceeding.

Mr. Hay. This letter, I presume, re lates to the toast. The gentlemen have over and over again interrogated gen. Eat on with respect to that toast; and now when he is able to state with accuracy ev ery material circumstance in relation to it, we are told that they do not wish to hear it.)

Gen. Eaton. From this letter I am en abled to state, that when I passed through Washington, in the month of Dec. 1805, on my way to the northward, there was some intimation that this project of separating the union was in embryo. A public dinner was given to captain Decatur and myself in Georgetown; and I am pretty certain that this toast was once given and originally there. As I passed thro' Philadelphia some time about the 20th of December, an ap plication was made to me by a gentleman whose name I presume I am not at liberty to mention here.

(Mr. Martin. We request the name—Jonathan Dayton, said gen. Eaton)—He told me there was a project of a revolution in the Western Country and hinted at a general revolution, and said he should in troduce me to col. Burr. I had an inter view with col. Burr, but he did not go so fully into the subject as general Dayton had done; he talked much of war and enter prize, and of an expedition against the Spaniards; and there the conversation ended at that time. I passed on to the Northward and entered the village in which I lived; and having received many civili ties from my fellow citizens and neigh bors, I gave an entertainment in return at which I gave this toast. I was still igno rant of the extent of the project, nor did I positively know that col. Burr was the chief mover. On my return to the city of Washington, col. Burr laid open to me his whole views, as I have before stated.— Then it was that I wrote on for the paper containing this toast, for the purpose of laying it before col. Burr, and with it my sentiments of his project.

Copy of a letter from Stephen Pynchon to Gen. Eaton.

September 22, 1807.

MY DEAR SIR,
The Toast "Palsey to the brain that shall plot to dismember, and leprosy to the hand that will not draw to defend the (or our) union," about which Mr. Burr has asked questions, was as you have correctly stated, printed at Springfield. It was a mong other toasts submitted to my dis cretion to publish, and was accordingly sent to Springfield for that purpose in your absence.—I sent you the paper I think, containing the toast when you were at Washington in the spring of or winter of 1805.

The sentiments were given by you as a toast at the time of your entertainment to the citizens of this place as a compliment for what you termed civilities you had re ceived from them.

I did think, and do still think, that it was, when given, entirely new, and that it had never before been given by you to the public, in any other place. The sentiment was a bold and pleasing one to me. I accordingly selected it as one which would so appear to others. I know not that it may not have been published before. If it had been that circumstance was unknown to me. At any rate it was published at Springfield by your permission. Was giv en by you as a toast, in my hearing in this place, and received my entire approbation; although I knew not the particular applica tion of it, or the circumstances out of which, I am now certain it grew. I mean the conspiracy.

I knew not, sir whether this will ever reach you. If it should be so fortunate it may be serviceable. I therefore send it.

Your last letter with its accompanying paper, was enigmatic. I am, however, at no great loss to conjecture its meaning. I hope my conjecture of its import is correct.
At any rate, no man can more cordially wish than I do, that if it be correct and an anticipated event take place, God may be with you and give you safe deliverance from evil.

With him your friends must leave you, desire him to take paternal charge of you, and conduct you to his happiness & glory.
No news. I therefore only add, farewell —and that I am very cordially, yours, &c.

S. PYNCHON.

APPOINTMENT.

LARKIN SMITH, esq. of Virginia, to be Collector of the port of Norfolk, vice Th.
NEWTON, sen. esq. deceased.

Extract from a letter from a respectable merchant in Havana, to his correspond ent in New York dated 17th September, 1807.

"In addition to the foregoing, I have merely to drop you a line to inform you that the king of Spain has opened the port of Vera Cruz to the trade of the island of Cuba; which, no doubt, will occasion some alteration in the prices of merchan dize here, as it will open a field for adven ture;—however, no rapid rise should be expected.

From the Boston Centinel of Saturday.

IMPORTANT—IF TRUE.

Captain Campbell, who arrived here yester day from Passamaquoddy, (Schodick) in forms us, that before he sailed, he learnt from gentlemen of respectability of Schodick, that the British express cutter the Sylvia, of 10 guns, which carried out Admiral Berkeley's dispatches had returned to Halifax, in the short passage of 20 days, bringing the inter esting intelligence, That all the points in dis pute between the U. S. and Great-Britain had been amicably settled; and that a cessation of hostilities had taken place between England and France.

Captain Campbell sailed from Schodick, on Sunday last.—The news arrived there from Halifax, on the Friday preceding, in Halifax papers.—It was common talk on Friday, Sat urday and Sunday, and occasioned much joy.
The particulars were related to Capt. C. by Mr. Wm. Pike, Captain Shubael Downes, Squires Porter, Fink and Brewer, Mr. An drews, and many others. The shortness of the passage was commented on. Such are the reported particulars.—Friday being the 2d allowing the news to have been six days from Halifax to Schodick, only one day in Halifax and the 20 days passage, it could have left England no later than the 5th September; only two days later than the Portland arrival from Liverpool. It is highly probable there is a chapter of mistake somewhere; and that either the armistice between Russia & France or the discontinuance of the embargo in Eng land, or some other old event has been mis taken for news. The report we are confident as stated by Capt. C. was current at Scho dick; but the news is too bulky, and the chan nel too roundabout, for entire credence.

POSTSCRIPT.

TO THE BOSTON PALLADIUM OF FRIDAY.
Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Port land, dated September 7, received this morn ing.

"Captain Denning, in a brig from Liver pool, in 34 days, has just arrived, bringing information that the United States schooner Revenge had arrived. Captain Denning bro't no papers, nor reports any other informati on."

The same letter also adds.
"That the ships Generals Knox and Ame rica, both from Liverpool, and the ship Au rora, from Amsterdam, are now beating up the harbor."

AMERICAN COMMERCE.

The letters and accounts from Amster dam, to Aug. 24, 1807, which state the o pinion of Mr. Munroe respecting the course and departure of American vessels, have excited some war apprehensions on this side the Atlantic.—This opinion may have been expressed early in August; but we are inclined to think the apprehensions of war in London, between this country and England, had subsided at the last dates, as we have seen a letter dated Aug. 18, 1807, from the captain of a very valuable Ameri can ship, lying in London in which he in forms his owner, that he was then about proceeding immediately to Guernsey, to take in a cargo for Amsterdam. Had a speedy war been apparent, this voyage would not we think have been undertaken.

—This also invalidates the Amsterdam ar ticle of August 25, 1807, which says, "af ter six weeks from the 19th August, no port on the European continent will be con sidered neutral by the English." In our London files we find that on the 19th Aug an English order passed directing that af ter six weeks from that day, all vessels be longing to Mecklenburg, Adenburgh, Knip hausen and Peppenburg, (countries lately ceded to France or its allies) should be detained, and sent in. This order we think occasioned the mistake of the Am sterdam correspondent.

ENGLISH SAILOR.

THERE is a well known story of a sailor who coming off his cruise with his pockets full of prize money, admired the Admiral's velvet waistcoat so much, that nothing could satisfy him, until he had one made for him self of the very same stuff. He accordingly enquired of the Admiral's tailor, of whom he went to bespeak his vest. The tailor, after having taken his measure, asked him what he should make the back of. "Why of the same stuff to be sure!" quoth Jack. "Is not uni al, quoth the tailor, to make the back of those rich waistcoats of the same stuff with the front; the Admiral had the back of his made of common cloth."—"No matter for that," quoth Jack; "make mine all velvet!" "I'll have no sham about me."—Soon after, when Jack had got his waistcoat on, he met the Admiral in the street; but instead of taking off his hat (for which he felt himself too great) he held his coat lappers up with one hand, and with the other he clapped his back.—"No sham here, Admiral! no sham about me!" stem and stern alike, by G—d!"

The defendant Cornelius Wing, not having entered his appearance and given 25 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY, some time in the months of November or Dec. last, a negro man by the name of SAM, who was hired in the town of Alexandria to a Mr. Robert Smith.
He was about 30 years of age, about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, very straight, of rather a yellowish or tawny complexion, stutters a little, has a soft voice, and generally seems humble and timid when spoken to. He had a wife at col. Jenkinson's in the county of Caroline, and may perhaps be lurking in that neighborhood, but I think it more probable he may have gone to the state of Maryland.
If taken in the state of Virginia and brought to me I will give the above reward; if in the state of Maryland and brought to me I will give 30 dollars reward.
